Interested in joining the board of directors?

The Club's Board of Directors election will be Monday, November 11th.

Every year we fill six of the twelve seats on the Board. We are always looking for members who want to help the club by serving on the Board, and 2019 is no exception. If you've wanted to give back to the Utica Roadrunners and help take the Club to the next level, running for a seat on the Board for a two-year term is an excellent way to accomplish these objectives!

If you wish to run, please email a one paragraph bio by Friday, October 11th to Laurie Hennessy at laurie.hennessy@aol.com.

President's Message

by Wayne Murphy

Fall is here and so was the Falling Leaves. A big shout out to Mike Brych – race director and his team for another great race. We appreciate all of their efforts! We also completed our 50th season of development runs. Thank you again to all of those who coordinated and volunteered! One last race this year for the Roadrunners. Join us for the Skeleton Run in Deerfield on October 13th. I will finally be able to run it again. I look forward to it.

We will be holding board elections soon with the final announcement of the new board at our annual meeting the second Monday of November, which will again be held at the Boilermaker office. Please think about running for a position on the board. An email with information should be sent to you soon.

This will be one of my last letters as President. I will be leaving the board and the race director position in November. I am proud of what the board has been able to accomplish in my four years as a member and two years as President. Some of the notable areas include a new website, an increase participation and sponsorship in all of our races. Most of all I am proud of our members and all of their running accomplishments. Thank you to all who have provided me with so much support over the years. You have all been amazing. A special thank you to the Utica Boilermaker for their support of the club through the years.

I look forward to seeing all of you out on the road, Wayne

Letter from the Editor

The countdown has begun! I see so many of you out there training for your fall races and putting in big miles. Everyone is working so hard!

I've got the Syracuse Half coming up in early November. I twisted Amy's arm to run it because those super nice jackets that they give you are BLACK this year. I must have it.

When training, I find it most helpful to make a schedule, design it all "fancy" and put it right on my refrigerator so I see it every day. Once something is on paper and staring me in the face, it will get done. I get GREAT pleasure taking a Sharpie and crossing off runs when they're done! I'm always curious how other runners keep track of their training schedules. If you don't mind sharing, I'd love to do a feature in an upcoming issue. Email me at michelle@484design.com or text me a photo at 315-534-0067.

Thank you! Stay motivated and safe in your training and crush those races!

See you out there, Michelle

Member Spotlight

ou've seen him at Development Runs. You may have seen him running some serious hills during Peak to Brew. You might have even been IN that van and not realized what a rock star John Gilligan is.

John grew up in Utica and attended UFA and New Hartford H.S. for a bit. He majored in radio/TV production at Herkimer College. He was more of a "party animal" back then and didn't run in high school or college – he only ran a couple Boilermakers "to show off" and prove that he could. He is a self-taught musician and added vocals, guitar and bass to a hard core band when he was younger called "Rabbit Squirrel" and later played world percussion in an Irish band called Cliudan who he toured with around the Northeastern U.S., Canada and Ireland. For 6-7 years, while he was in his late 30s/early 40s, he balanced a full time job and touring. Cliudan recorded four CDs.

John has two kids - John Chain (29) who lives in California and Sabrina (30) who lives in the Carolinas. He has spent a great part of his life work with and advocating for individuals with disabilities. He worked at Upstate Cerbral Palsy for a couple years before moving to The Peacemaker Program where for 14 years he worked under the New York State Justice Center helping advocate for those with developmental disabilities - those who didn't have family and couldn't make decisions on their own. He currently works at the Resource Center for Independent Living as a self direction broker in their new downtown office, helping people with their Medicaid budgets, which he finds very rewarding.

After the band broke up, he found himself with a good amount of time to fill and fill it he did. "Band life" on the road without a lot of physical activity had left him at 240 pounds so he took up camping, running and joined a gym. He also got a dog - something he never could do with his strenuous travel schedule.

With his running, John is a self-proclaimed lone wolf. He puts the tunes on and heads out on his own most days, letting his cares melt away and letting the machine do its thing. He loves people, but running is his "church". He doesn't do early mornings either. He'll make a big breakfast, ease into the day and head out in the high heat at noon. It's his thing.

John got involved in the Roadrunners three years ago when he saw a post on "The Facebook," as he loves to call it (along with "The Instagram" and "the online"). The Dev Runs needed help with the water stations and now John is a fixture that runners look forward to seeing each week. He is so dedicated, he was awarded the 2018 Volunteer of the Year Award at the annual banquet.

With his own running, he's been having a pretty darn great year. He's never hit 600 miles in a year before, but in September he celebrated tackling his first 1,000 and is excited to be getting his Red Jacket. He ran his best Boilermaker in 30 years (78 minutes vs. his personal best of 74 minutes), logged his fastest 5K, finished his second Peak to Brew Relay Race and will be running the Boston Half on October 12th. He said it's ok to put in print that he "will PR". He is averaging about 35 miles a week and really putting in the work to do so.

His family is supportive of him, especially his little sister Laura. His mom thinks he's a little crazy, but is proud of him. His running friends on Facebook keep him motivated - especially Jen Bachelder, Scott Neary and his "Blizzard Brother" Jim Latshaw who has a love for running in snowstorms. He loves that runners are passionate people and that he's surrounded by a great group of them here locally. He feels like he hasn't scratched the surface yet with his personal running capabilities. In fact, he's going to go for a full marathon next year!

John with Jen, Scott, Cole and Jim

When he's not running, you can catch John and his Boston Terrier Caoimhe (pronounced "Keva" which means "beautiful and graceful" in Gaelic) kayaking at a number of places in the Adirondacks. He loves to hike and camp and is perhaps the best tour guide ever for the Peak to Brew race. He knows the names of the mountains and lakes along with the names and stories of the hermits. He's the dude you'd want to be stranded in the wilderness with. (Editor's note: you can't have him for your P2B team - he's ours!!!)

The local running community is lucky to have John Gilligan –he's a rock star not just literally, but a rock star for those he works with, for his family and for us. Good luck in Boston, John and can't wait to see what 2020 brings for you!

The Grand Prix is Underway!

ONE MORE RACE TO GO FOR 2019:

October 13 – UR Deerfield Skeleton Run

The Grand Prix is a friendly competition open to all current Utica Roadrunners Club members. Members receive points for each Grand Prix race they complete based on their order of finish among club members competing in the same age group. It's a fun way to encourage members to participate in more local races and to keep training throughout the racing season. At the end of the season, the points are tallied up and the top three runners in each age group are presented awards at the club's annual awards banquet.

Scoring:

- Minimum of 3 races to qualify for the Grand Prix awards.
- Best total for 6 races will be taken for your Grand Prix score.
